About the Client:

Alteryx is a leading analytics automation platform that helps organizations operationalize data science. Their target buyers include data analysts, BI teams, and C-suite leaders across Fortune 1000 companies.

The Problem We Solved

Alteryx had excellent content assets but limited distribution beyond their owned channels. Their team was receiving large volumes of leads from syndication vendors with no quality control — 78% were rejected by sales.

The Opportunity

Strategic content syndication — with rigorous data analysis, vendor scoring, and real-time performance monitoring — could be Alteryx's highest-volume, highest-quality lead channel at scale.

KEY PAIN POINTS

1. 78% of syndicated leads rejected by sales
2. No data-driven vendor selection process
3. Asset distribution on only 2 vendors
4. Zero first-party intent data captured

Our Strategic Approach

Axris Media Solutions rebuilt Alteryx's syndication program from the ground up — selecting premium publishers, implementing real-time data validation, and layering analytics dashboards to ensure every dollar worked harder.

1

Premium Publisher Network

Vetted and onboarded 18 category-specific publishers — TechTarget, IDG, Foundry, and 15 niche analytics communities — with performance-based contracts.

18 publishers · 62M reach

2

Real-Time Data Validation

Implemented automated lead validation: email verification, company match, title filtering, and duplicate suppression before any lead entered the CRM.

99.2% data accuracy achieved

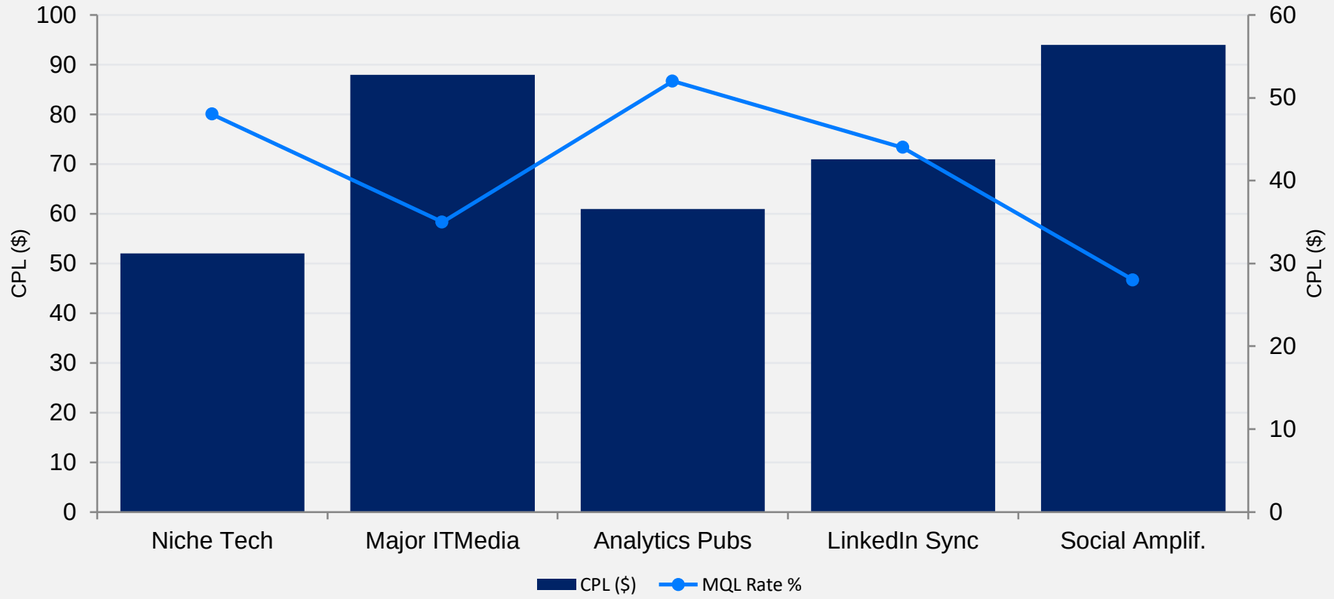

3

Analytics & Attribution Dashboard

Built a custom Tableau-powered dashboard tracking CPL, MQL rate, pipeline contribution, and ROI per publisher in real time.

100% attribution transparency

How We Did It — Campaign Timeline

1 WEEK 1–2

Program Audit

Analyzed existing vendors, lead quality by source, content performance, and attribution gaps across all current syndication programs.

2 WEEK 3–4

Vendor Selection

Scored 40+ syndication vendors on reach, audience quality, CPL benchmarks, and reporting capabilities.

3 WEEK 5–7

Launch & Validate

Activated 18 publishers with real-time validation in place; established kill thresholds for underperformers and quality benchmarks for all new sources.

4 WEEK 8–13

Analyze & Amplify

Used Tableau dashboards for weekly performance reviews; reallocated budget to top publishers weekly.

Key Takeaways & Benefits

What We Learned

Niche Publishers Beat Mass Reach

Analytics-specific publications delivered 52% MQL rates vs. 35% from major IT media — at lower CPL.

Real-Time Validation Is Non-Negotiable

Removing invalid leads at the source (not post-CRM) saved 22 hours of sales time per week.

Data Tells You What to Kill Fast

Dashboards enabled cutting underperforming publishers by week 3, saving 18% of budget.

Asset Variety Drives More Engagement

Running 5 content formats (reports, webinars, checklists, calculators, videos) boosted coverage by 3x.

Client Benefits

Massive Lead Volume at Low Cost

9,400 leads in 90 days at just $46 CPL — far below industry average.

Sales Team Confidence Restored

41% acceptance rate vs. 22% baseline — sales team now trusts syndicated leads.

Full Attribution Visibility

Every lead, MQL, and closed deal traceable to exact publisher and content asset.

Scalable Publisher Framework

Vetted publisher roster ready to scale spend with no drop in quality.

Data-Backed Syndication Is a Different Game.

Alteryx's success shows that content syndication isn't a volume play — it's a precision engineering challenge. With the right data layer, publisher selection, and real-time validation, it becomes your most scalable, cost-effective demand channel.
