About the Client:

Microsoft Azure is the world's second-largest cloud platform, competing head-to-head with AWS and Google Cloud. Their enterprise sales cycles are 6–18 months with complex multi-stakeholder decisions.

The Problem We Solved

Microsoft's generic demand generation campaigns were failing to penetrate high-value enterprise accounts. Decision-makers were tuned out, and the sales team lacked the right intelligence for relevant conversations.

The Opportunity

Account-based marketing allows Microsoft to concentrate resources on accounts with the highest revenue potential, aligning sales and marketing around shared account intelligence and coordinated outreach.

KEY PAIN POINTS

1 Top 200 target accounts had <5% engagement rate

2 No account-specific messaging or creative assets

3 Sales and marketing working in complete silos

4 Average enterprise deal cycle extended to 14 months

Our Strategic Approach

Axris Media Solutions engineered a Tier-1 ABM playbook for 200 accounts — each receiving personalized digital experiences, direct mail, executive briefings, and coordinated sales activation sequences.

1

Account Intelligence Layer

Researched each of 200 accounts — their tech stack, pain points, competitors in use, and key stakeholders across IT, Finance, and C-suite.

100% account dossiers built

2

Personalized Multi-Channel

Delivered custom landing pages, LinkedIn retargeting, direct mail, executive email sequences, and webinar invites per account cluster.

7 channels activated per account

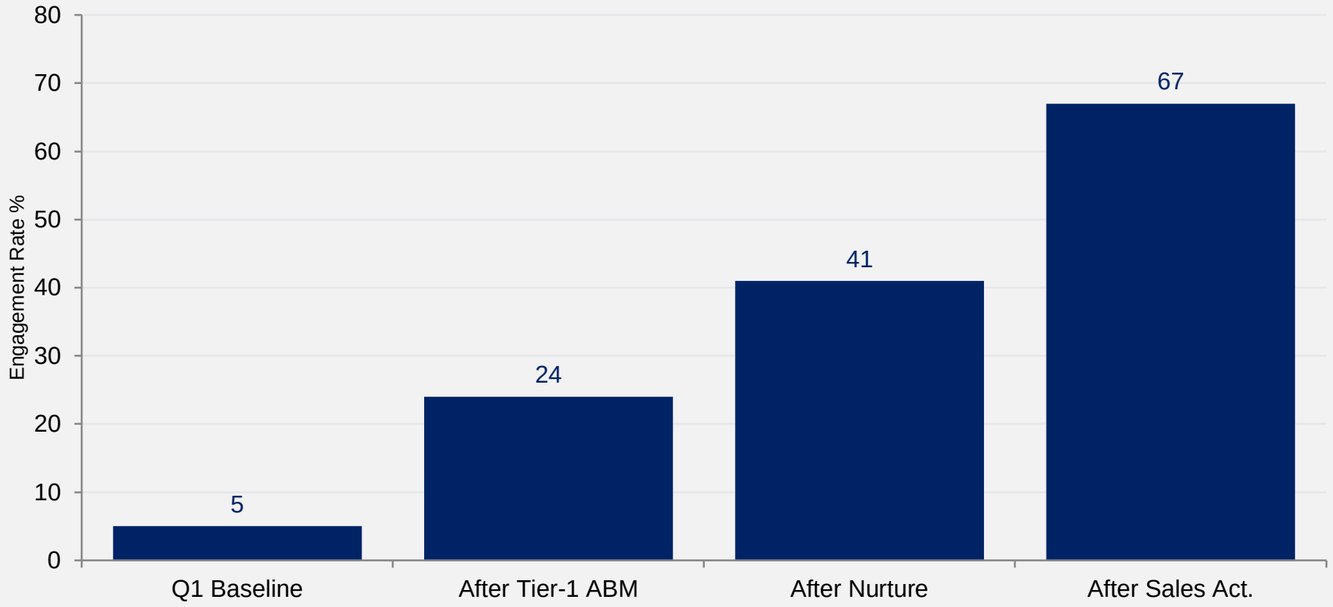

3

Sales Activation Playbooks

Equipped AEs with account-specific talk tracks, objection handlers, competitive intel, and weekly engagement alerts.

Result: 200 targeted accounts · 28 closed deals · $11.4M ARR attributed — with 45% faster deal cycles

How We Did It — Campaign Timeline

1 MONTH 1

Account Selection & Intel

Scored 600 potential accounts, selected top 200, built full intelligence dossiers and stakeholder maps.

2 MONTH 2

Creative & Asset Build

Produced account-cluster landing pages, email sequences, LinkedIn ads, and direct mail packs — ensuring every asset was tailored to the specific account tier and buying stage.

3 MONTH 3–4

Campaign Activation

Launched all channels simultaneously per account cluster with sales team fully briefed.

4 MONTH 5–6

Measure & Close

Tracked engagement per account, escalated hot accounts to AEs, and supported deal progression.

Key Takeaways & Benefits

What We Learned

Personalization at Account Level Wins

Accounts with full personalized creative showed 8x higher engagement vs. generic campaigns.

Sales-Marketing Unified = Faster Closes

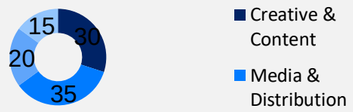

Accounts where sales activated within 24hrs of engagement alert closed 2x faster.

Direct Mail Creates Breakthrough Moments

Custom executive packages had a 73% open rate and generated 9 of the 28 deals.

Tier Your Accounts by Potential

Focusing 60% of budget on top 40 accounts generated 75% of the closed revenue.

Client Benefits

Massive ARR Growth

$11.4M new ARR from one 6-month ABM program.

Deeper Account Relationships

Multi-stakeholder relationships built within each enterprise.

Scalable Playbook

Replicable account-based playbook now used globally by Azure.

Shorter Sales Cycles

Average deal cycle reduced from 14 months to 7.7 months.

Target Fewer Accounts. Win Bigger Deals.

ABM isn't about reaching more people. It's about reaching the RIGHT people with the right message at exactly the right moment. Microsoft Azure's success demonstrates what's possible when marketing truly serves sales.
